

Could 2025 Usher in Spiritual Turmoil Heralding the Antichrist's Rise?

Sixbert SANGWA • September 30, 2024

As we approach the year 2025, there's a growing sense that this time could be pivotal—not only from a Christian eschatological perspective but also from the viewpoint of esoteric thinkers, New Age movements, and even popular culture. Both an unprecedented global crisis and the spiritual chaos expected during this period are believed to precede the rise of the Antichrist, a figure central to biblical prophecy and the hidden agendas of occult societies. This global turmoil, likely starting by 2025, is expected to set the stage for the Antichrist's emergence as a false messiah, offering solutions to the world's problems.

Recent developments suggest that secret societies are accelerating their plans, with the intent to inaugurate the Antichrist before 2027, and 2030 at the latest. A significant event that has raised concerns among those watching for prophetic signs was the recent staging of the Lord's Supper during the Olympic games. Some interpret this as a signal that there will be no other such competition before the Antichrist takes his seat of power. This symbolic act, combined with other global events, has led many to believe that the timeline for the Antichrist's rise has been expedited.

This article will explore the significance of 2025 through biblical teachings, New Age thought, astrological predictions, environmental concerns, and even unexpected sources like "The Simpsons" television show. We'll also examine the accelerated timeline suggested by recent events and symbolic acts, as well as the global problems that the Antichrist will claim to solve. These converging voices and actions highlight the urgent need for Christians to remain vigilant, grounded in the truth of Scripture, and prepared for Christ's potential sudden return.

The Role of Secret Societies and Technological Preparations (2020-2024)

It is widely believed that secret societies—such as the Freemasons, the Illuminati, and other global elites—have been preparing for a New World Order for decades. These groups, operating behind the scenes, are alleged to have an agenda that includes creating global crises to justify the establishment of a one-world government. One of their key objectives is to introduce a single global system, where political, economic, and religious control will be centralized under the leadership of the Antichrist.

From 2020 to 2024, events suggest that certain groups have been testing technological capabilities for global control. The COVID-19 pandemic has been viewed by some as a "test run" for surveillance and regulatory measures. Technologies like mass surveillance, digital currencies, and vaccine passports have been implemented, potentially laying groundwork for a system of totalitarian control. It is also believed that recent global temperature increases, as well as the surge in extreme weather events such as floods and cyclones, are linked to experiments manipulating the Earth's climate through ionospheric electromagnetic energy channeling and weather modification technologies. While controversial, these claims align with concerns about advanced technologies being used for questionable purposes.

These technological advancements hint at a larger agenda, potentially aligning with prophecies of a one-world system under the Antichrist's rule. The ability to control both human behavior and environmental conditions globally could be seen as preparation for an authoritarian world government. The apparent increase in frequency and intensity of natural disasters may serve as a cover for these weather weapon tests, further obscuring the true nature and extent of these technological capabilities. These hidden agendas are closely aligned with the rise of a one-world government and a one-world religion, both of which are prophesied in Scripture. The Antichrist will present himself as the solution to humanity's problems, offering peace and unity, but at the cost of true faith in Jesus Christ. Daniel's prophecy describes him as one who "will speak words against the Most High and oppress the holy ones of the Most High" (Daniel 7:25).

Global Calamities as a Prelude to the Antichrist's Rise

As we approach 2025, various global issues—famine, natural disasters, disease, and war—are expected to intensify, potentially due to human influence. Many believe these crises are being orchestrated or exploited by secret societies to advance their agenda. The Bible warns that such events will precede the Antichrist's rise, with Jesus Himself describing these calamities as "the beginning of birth pains" (Matthew 24:7-8).

In The Externalization of the Hierarchy, Alice Bailey discusses impending "crises" that she believes will compel humanity to acknowledge the need for a new global order (Bailey, 1957, p. 281). Bailey, deeply involved in esoteric and occult teachings, predicted that spiritual entities (which she termed "the Hierarchy") would physically manifest in the years leading up to 2025. She claimed this would trigger a radical transformation in human governance, establishing conditions for a new world leader—a Christ-like figure uniting humanity under a single system. However, for Christians, this so-called "christ" exhibits characteristics of the Antichrist as described in 2 Thessalonians 2:3-4. Bailey's work outlines how these spiritual forces will operate more openly, paving the way for a global leader—one many Christians identify as the Antichrist (Bailey, 1957).

From 2020-2024, various global disasters have occurred in rapid succession, leading many to believe that secret societies are strategically orchestrating or accelerating these crises. Environmentalists have long warned about the growing threats of climate change, famine, and natural disasters, such as floods, cyclones, earthquakes, and volcanic eruptions. Scientists predict that by 2025, the world could face catastrophic environmental conditions due to unsustainable practices and the exploitation of natural resources. This environmental crisis, combined with economic collapse, wars, and widespread disease, may push the world into chaos—thus creating the perfect storm for the Antichrist to offer himself as a solution.

The Suddenness of the Crisis: Billy Graham's Warning and Astrological Signs

Billy Graham (1965), in his book Un Monde en Flamme (World Aflame), warned about the suddenness of the crises that will sweep the world before Christ's return. Graham argued that humanity will experience a rapid and unexpected escalation of moral, spiritual, and physical crises as we approach the end times. His warnings align with the prophecies found in Revelation and 1 Thessalonians, where the world will be lulled into a false sense of security before sudden destruction comes upon them (1 Thessalonians 5:3).

Astrological predictions for 2025 also point to significant upheaval. Some astrologers and spiritual thinkers outside Christianity view 2025 as a critical year, interpreting planetary alignments and transits as indicators of societal and spiritual turmoil. They believe specific planetary movements in 2025, such as the alignment of Saturn and Neptune, symbolize the breakdown of old systems and the emergence of new, potentially disruptive ideologies. These interpretations often link to notions of global transformation and awakening, which align with the Christian understanding of spiritual deception on a global scale (Sullivan, 2021). Astrologers believe these alignments signal the end of an era, heralding widespread disruption and the collapse of traditional systems. While these interpretations stem from secular and esoteric viewpoints, they bear striking similarities to biblical prophecies about the upheaval preceding the Antichrist's rise.

Various New Age authors and spiritual channels have also spoken about 2025 as a key year for humanity. Figures like Dolores Cannon (2008) and others have suggested that this time will mark a shift in spiritual consciousness, with many expecting an "ascension" or "awakening" to a higher plane of existence. However, from a biblical perspective, these predictions align more closely with the rise of deception and false teachings that Jesus warned about in Matthew 24:24. The so-called "spiritual awakening" promoted by New Age movements could be part of the broader agenda to lead humanity away from Christ and into the arms of the Antichrist.

The Simpsons and Pop Culture Predictions

As 2025 approaches, Christians are increasingly turning to the prophetic promises found in Scripture, particularly concerning the rapture—the moment when Christ will rescue His church from the coming tribulation. Revelation 3:10 offers hope, as Jesus promises to "keep you from the hour of testing that is going to come on the whole world". This promise is understood to refer to the rapture, where Christ will take His faithful followers before the Antichrist fully rises to power.

Interestingly, even in popular culture, we see this concept echoed. For instance, The Simpsons—a show known for its uncanny ability to predict future events—depicted a scene that closely resembles the rapture, where believers are suddenly taken, and chaos erupts for those left behind (The Simpsons, YouTube). While The Simpsons is not a religious show, the inclusion of such a scenario reflects a broader cultural awareness, even within secular or occult frameworks, that the rapture is a real and imminent event. The accuracy of The Simpsons' predictions in past episodes, such as the rise of Donald Trump to the presidency, has led many to speculate that its writers are either tapped into deeper esoteric knowledge or unknowingly reflecting the spiritual reality of our time.

In other episodes, The Simpsons also makes references to global disasters and societal collapse in 2025. While often presented in a satirical or humorous manner, the show's portrayal of these events aligns with the growing sense that we are on the cusp of significant global changes. Even within the kingdom of darkness, there seems to be an acknowledgment that the rapture is imminent, and the Antichrist's rise is near.

Environmental Crisis and Spiritual Upheaval

In addition to political and economic turmoil, environmental disasters are expected to play a significant role in paving the way for the Antichrist's rise. Scientists and environmentalists warn that by 2025, the effects of climate change will reach critical levels, leading to widespread famine, floods, cyclones, earthquakes, and volcanic eruptions. These environmental crises will exacerbate global instability, driving nations to seek a unified solution.

The Bible teaches that the earth itself will groan under the weight of sin and rebellion against God. Romans 8:22 states, "For we know that the whole creation has been groaning together with labor pains". The intensification of natural disasters can be understood as part of this groaning, as creation waits for the redemption that will come when Christ returns. However, during the tribulation period, these disasters will be used by the Antichrist to further justify his rise to power. The one-world government he establishes will promise to address these crises, but at the cost of individual freedom and religious truth.

The Rapture and the Opening of the Abyss

Revelation 9:1-11 describes the opening of the abyss, releasing demonic forces onto the earth in the last days. This event corresponds with the rise of the Antichrist, who will be empowered by Satan to deceive the nations. As these spiritual forces are unleashed, believers must remain vigilant, knowing that Christ has promised to rescue His church before the tribulation fully begins.

Jesus assured His followers that He would "keep you from the hour of testing that is going to come on the whole world" (Revelation 3:10). This promise of the rapture gives hope to Christians, as they trust in the imminent return of Christ to deliver them from the wrath to come.

Conclusion

As we approach 2025, we're witnessing a convergence of crises—spiritual, environmental, political, and technological—that seem to point toward the fulfillment of biblical prophecy. Some believe secret societies and global elites are orchestrating events to pave the way for the Antichrist's rise, while New Age movements and astrologers unknowingly echo the spiritual deception predicted in the Bible. These events aren't random but part of a larger spiritual battle culminating in the Antichrist's emergence.

However, for those in Christ, there's hope. Jesus promises to rescue His church from the hour of testing, and Scripture assures us that ultimate victory belongs to Him. Amid this chaos, believers must stay grounded in God's Word, discerning the times and avoiding growing deceptions. The turmoil of 2025 serves as a powerful reminder that the rapture is near, and Christ will soon return for His church.

Let's fix our eyes on Jesus, "the author and perfecter of our faith" (Hebrews 12:2), trusting His promise to deliver us from the coming wrath. Now more than ever, the world needs the truth of the Gospel, as the days grow darker and our Lord's return draws near.
